

Secondment Service

Engenium is a privately-owned Australian Project Delivery and Engineering Consultants with offices located in Perth, Karratha, Newcastle and Brisbane. We are a trusted supplier of Project Delivery, Multi-Discipline Engineering and Advisory Services to the resource, industrial infrastructure and energy sectors. We also offer additional versatility with our Secondment Service.

Why Choose Engenium for Your Personnel Needs?

Engenium's project excellence stems from our high quality people backed by our company's knowledge base. When Engenium assists your business with a secondment professional you are not just getting one person but the support of the whole company, nationally.

Our secondment professionals have access to Engenium's corporate knowledge, expertise and insights to help your business achieve its project goals.

Whatever your requirements may be from one of our secondment professionals, our flexibility allows us to adopt a delivery model best suited to your project and asset lifecycle needs.

We provide engineering, supervision and project management personnel with a quick turnaround to keep your project on track and on budget.

The Engenium Difference: Our Promise to You

We are not a one-way staffing solution. By choosing Engenium's Secondment Service you will receive the following added benefits you wouldn't get from a staffing agency:

- Access to any one of our Engineering, Supervisory and Project Management Professionals nationally, wherever your projects location.
- All our secondment professionals come backed by a team of professionals with a plethora of industry knowledge and experience to apply to your project.
- Engenium is ISO accredited for Quality, Environmental, OHS and Risk Management Systems.
- No on-boarding or salary service fees.
- No transition fees (post 12 month engagement).
- No insurance double-ups.
